

ESF & COST achievements and European Cooperation opportunities for geoscientists and environmental scientists

B. Avril (1), I. Jonckheere (1), D. Hauglustaine (1), A. M. Hama (1), and C. Petit (2)

(1) European Science Foundation, 1 quai Lezay-Marnésia, 67080 Strasbourg Cedex, France (bernard.avril@esf.org), (2)
COST Office, 149 avenue Louise, 1050 Brussels, Belgium

The session EG1 “European Cooperation in Geosciences and Environmental Sciences: ESF & COST achievements and opportunities” will gather scientific communications related to recent and on-going ESF and COST activities. It will also offer the opportunity for the EGU participants to get essential information about the existing and future funding opportunities within ESF and COST for European Cooperation.