

Lessons Learned From Water Management in Kenya

W Nabutola

Athi Water Service Board, Nairobi, Kenya (Wafula_nabutola_090382@yahoo.co.uk)

Water management in Kenya is quite challenging as a variety of extreme situations can happen simultaneously thus making it necessary to set priorities in order to avoid major disasters. Extreme precipitation can easily lead to floods while water scarcity in other regions may let the population migrate towards water resources. In both situations fatalities may occur.