

Field calibration of multibeams: Theory and practice

A. A. Ardalan (1), F. A. Givi (2), and M.H Rezvani (2)

(1) Department of Surveying and Geomatics Engineering, College of Engineering, University of Tehran, P.O. Box 11155-4563, Tehran, Iran, (2) Institute of Geophysics, University of Tehran, P.O. Box 11155-4563, Tehran, Iran

Multibeam are one of the modern Hydrographic instruments. This instrument like any measuring instrument requires calibration. Considering the operational mechanism of the instrument and its various installation parameters its calibration has its own special complexities. The goal of this paper is to present the details of our experiment with the calibration of a single-head multibeam.