

Geophysical Research Abstracts,
Vol. 11, EGU2009-13494, 2009
EGU General Assembly 2009
© Author(s) 2009

Geo-Astrophysical Turbulence

V. Canuto

NASA Goddard Institute, Room 554, United States

A review of the progress in modelling of turbulence in geo-astrophysical flows is presented, showing the important roles of buoyancy and rotation as well as magnetic forces in astrophysics. The mixing in the atmosphere, in the ocean. Convective processes in the sun and other examples will be presented.