

The Skin of the Earth

Where Life meets Rocks

Friedhelm von Blanckenburg¹ ,& Kirstin Übernickel²

¹GFZ German Research Centre for Geosciences, Potsdam, Germany

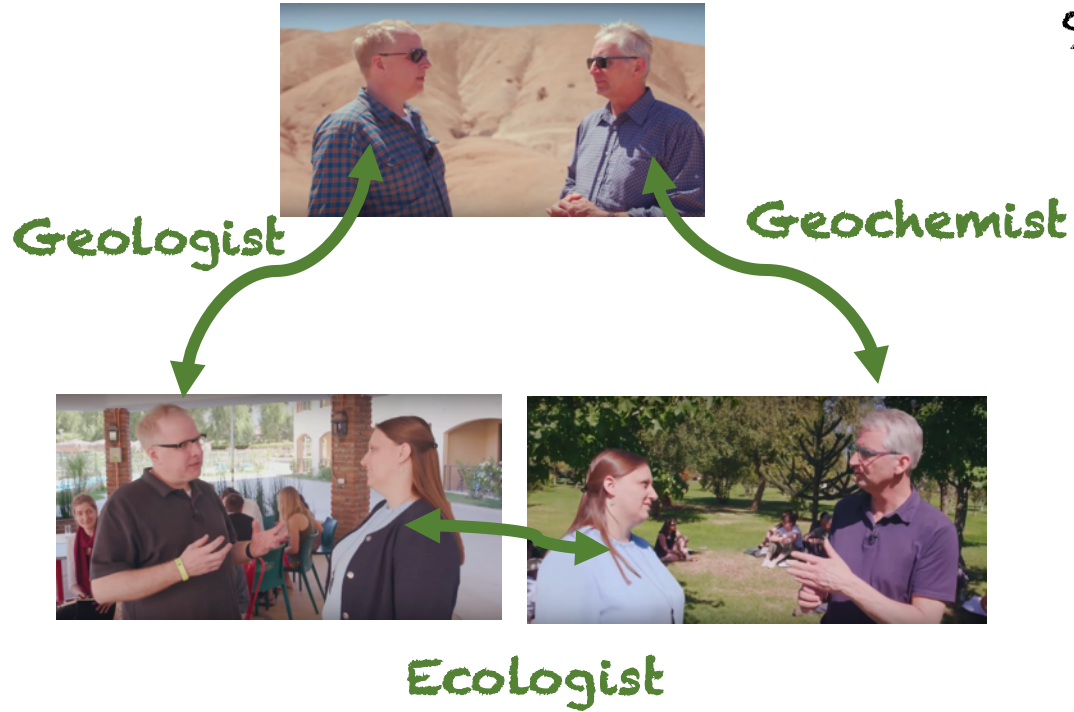

²University of Tübingen, Geosciences, Tübingen, Germany

Watch the Movie with us!

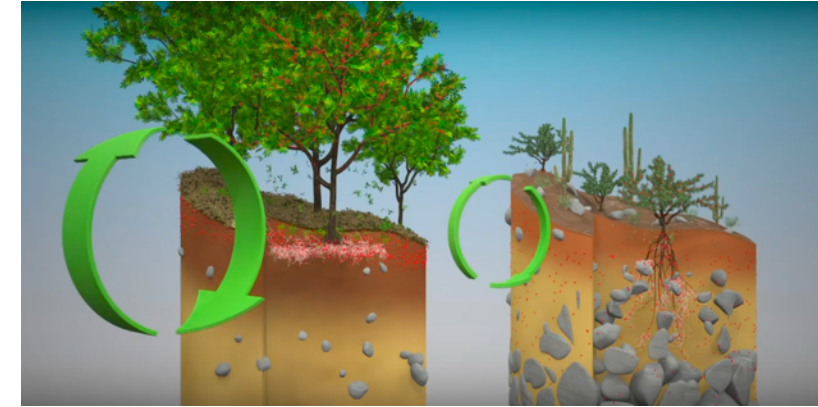

Examples

What to expect

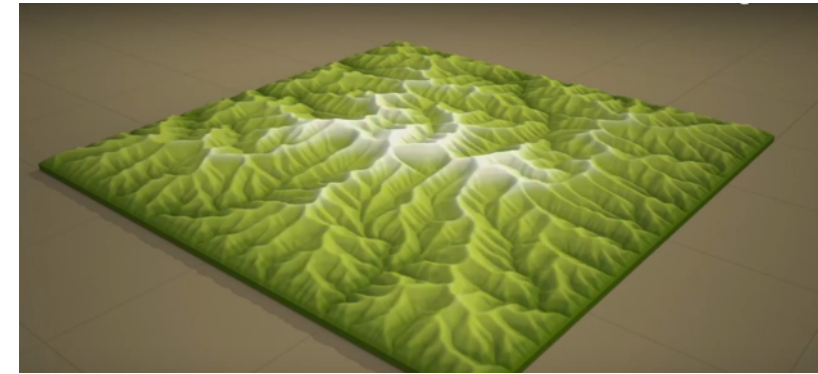

Connecting disciplines making specialists talk to each other:

Animation:
nutrient cycling between the bio- and geospheres in different ecological settings

Animation: landscape models
showing the impact of vegetation on topographic development

Explaining the concept of feedback as a dance

What we will do during the Chat session?

- Friedhelm von Blanckenburg and Kirstin Übernickel alias „The Movie makers“ will be available for discussion / questions / comments between 18:00 – 19:15
- 18:00 Welcome in the chat
- Your to-do: go to the Complete playlist on youtube for EN, ES, GER versions \(32.5 Mins\)
& stand alone animations

& select the version you want to see (EN, ES, GER)
- 18:15 we start watching the movie in parallel – chatting meanwhile is possible
- 18:38 End of movie – start of Question, Comments & Information Round

Interested in Why and How to make a Science Movie? Check out:

SSS8.10

Interactions between Geology, Biology and Climate at the Earth's surface

Co-organized by BG1/CL4/GD1/GM4/SSP2

Convener: Steffen Seitz^{ECS} | Co-conveners: Laurent Husson, Annegret Larsen^{ECS}, Carsten W. Mueller, Pierre Sepulchre, Kirstin Übernickel^{ECS}

Displays | Chat Fri, 08 May, 08:30–10:15

D1863 |

EGU2020-7321

“The Skin of the Earth – Where Life meets Rocks” – A Science Movie

Kirstin Übernickel, Friedhelm von Blanckenburg, and Todd A. Ehlers

uploaded material