During the World Meteorological Day there has been preparing „Open Day“ at Slovak Hydrometeorological Institute.

This event has more than 10 years traditions.

„Open Day“ is one of a lot of possibilities to give more information about meteorology, climatology, hydrology too to public. This „Day“ is executed in whole Slovakia.

People can visit the laboratories, the forecasting room....and meteo and clima measuring points. The most popular is visiting forecasting room. Visitors are interested in e.g. climatologic change in Slovakia territory, preparing weather forecasting, dangerous phenomena.... Every year we have more than 500 visitors.
