Sharing educational resources

Tomas Halenka

Charles University in Prague, Prague, Czech Republic (tomas.halenka@mff.cuni.cz)

Sharing educational resources represent the important way of integrating and strenthening of knowledges and awareness of the problems, in our case in meteorology and climatology. The presntation will discuss the subject in terms of what can be shared, how and why. Although there are other key players in this in the world and in Europe, the posible role of EMS in this process will be presented. Specific problems will be discussed.
